Russian Terms Presented Before Turn of Warfare in Favor of Poland

POLAND DELEGATES KEPT INFORMED

Three Polish Officers Sent to Minsk With Documents

Warsaw, Aug. 22 (By the Associated Press).—It is assumed here that representatives of the Russian soviet government presented their peace terms at the Minsk conference before the Polish delegates received word from Warsaw of the decided change in the military situation, which now favors Poland. It is believed in diplomatic circles that the delegation sent from this city to Minsk is fully informed of military and other developments, but despatches from it have given no hint that news has reached it.

One radio despatch from Warsaw has been acknowledged by George Tchitcherine, who stated that it had been delivered to the Polish representa-

Rutland Railroad Brakeman Sues Vermont Marble Co.

Rutland, Aug. 23.—Suit has been filed in Rutland county court by Leon A. Bacon to recover $10,000 from the Vermont Marble company for injuries received Aug. 6, while employed as a brakeman by the Rutland railroad. He was injured while switching cars on a side track at Manchester Depot, Vt. He alleges that the defendant company was negligent in allowing a large pile of waste marble to overhang and fall in the railroad track. A large piece of marble struck Mr. Bacon's right leg, fracturing it in two places.

BARRE GOLFERS WON MATCH

Easily Defeated Waubana-kee Club of Burlington, 10 to 2

IN GAME PLAYED ON BARRE COURSE

George H. Fraser, Waubana-kee's Professional, Played on Visiting Team

The return game between the Waubana-kee Golf club of Burlington and the Barre Golf club was played on the latter's course on Saturday afternoon, the result being a win for the Barre club by the score of 10 to 2. Headed by their professional, George H. Fraser, the Burlington club brought over 12 of their best players to try to give the Barre club its first defeat for the past three years, but they found that the Barre team was stronger than ever. Quite a large gallery of spectators followed the game between the Burlington professional and D. E. Stuart, of Barre. Fraser played fine golf the first round and had a score of 33, his second round being 37. George is a born golfer without a doubt and plays some great shots. He is a Barre boy and his many friends here may have an opportunity of seeing him in an exhibition game on the Barre course with one of this country's crack players before the present season is over.

After the game ended on Saturday, the Burlington players were entertained with a fine lunch catered for by Mrs. Henry Petrie, who was ably assisted by Mrs. W. A. Mathieson, Mrs. D. R. Stuart and Miss P. Gall.

Arrangements are being made for the annual championship of the club, which takes place early next month. A large entry is looked forward to. Below is the final result of Saturday's match game:

MORETOWN HIT OPPORTUNELY

And Defeated Barre A. A. at Intercity Park, 5 to 1

HITS OFF BEATON CAME WHEN NEEDED

Barre Could Not Connect With Granai's Offerings Heavily

Before the largest crowd of the season, the Barre A. A. team went down to defeat, five to one, before the strong Moretown team Saturday afternoon at Intercity park. The visitors found Beaton for eight hits during the game, practically all of them coming at opportune moments, while Granai kept the few bingles gained from him well scattered. The feature of the game was a wonderful running catch by Bottiggi of Ward's drive to center field in the third inning.

Moretown commenced scoring in the third inning. Irons drew a pass. Duba fanned and Bottiggi dragged Ward's liner out of the clouds. There would have been no scoring that inning if Bottiggi had remained in the same position, but he chose to play over the right for Starr, and the latter slashed a clean double to the center field fence, scoring Irons. Smith singled, advancing Starr, but Newton was thrown out by Parks.

Barre evened matters in their half of the same inning, after two men had been retired by way of the whiffing act. Parks took first when he was hit by Granai, and was safe at second when Marr dropped the throw to catch him stealing. He scored a minute later when Bottiggi skinned one inside third for two bases. Nicora walked, but Wright dumped one to third and Smith touched third, forcing out Bottiggi, and ending Barre's scoring for the rest of the game.

The break of the game came in the seventh. Duba sauntered and stole second. Ward again flied to Bottiggi, but Starr singled over first, sending Duba across the plate, and taking second himself on the throw in. Smith grounded out, Parks to Wright, Starr going to third on the play, and scoring on Newton's single through third. Marr whiffed for the third out.

The eighth saw the two extra runs put over. Granai singled to center and Grey singled past short, Granai going to second on the hit and continuing to third on the throw to catch Grey at first. Grey immediately took second on the return throw to catch Granai. Duba took a stroll, filling the bags. Ward rolled one to Calderara, who chose to play for Granai at home, but without success. The bags were filled again. Starr shot one down the first base line and was an easy out, but Grey scored on the play. Smith received a free ticket, but, with the bags full, it was an easy matter for Parks to force Ward at third with Newton's grounder.

Barre should have scored in the initial frame when Parks drew a pass, stole second, and started for home on Bottiggi's single to short left. With plenty of time to spare, however, Parks tripped, and, before he could regain his feet, was put out. The crowd present, the largest so far this season, for the most part, left the field after the Barre game, and the attendance at the Montpelier-Waterbury game, directly afterwards was comparatively slim.

According to the "Feet Review," a man presented himself for enlistment who said that his mother was an American who had married a Frenchman in Italy. He said further that he was born on a ship while flying the Spanish colors, while she was lying in the English channel, that his parents having died in Sweden when he was five, he was adopted by a German who brought him up in the United States. The man who adopted him was not a naturalized citizen.

"Would you class him as a man without a country?" someone asked the recruiting officer.
"Thunder, not!" was the reply. "I class him as a league of nations!"—Boston Transcript.

When Days for Raincoats Come

—then is the time you realize that a raincoat is a very convenient garment. Funny so many men never seem to think much about it until they actually need it. That seems to be about the only reason why every man does not own a raincoat.

The chill rains of fall are not so very far off; weather when rain protection is necessary to comfort and health. Better get your coat now, and have it when you need it; it's much better than wishing you had it.

You'll find here several kinds of raincoats; we can fit every like and every pocketbook.

Has the Small Car Owner A Right to Good Tires

THIS much is certain—that the small car owners of this country have as high quality standards as any other class of motorists. Whenever you want to see this proven out, you have only to watch how they come to good tires, when they are given an opportunity to get at them.

What some dealers seem to overlook are the reasons which have led most of the small car owners to buy their cars.

In building tires for the small car, the United States Rubber Company exercises as much care, as much thought, as much supervision, as if they were intended to go on the most expensive cars in the country.

Devoting an entire factory to their manufacture. Putting the whole weight of its varied experience behind them.

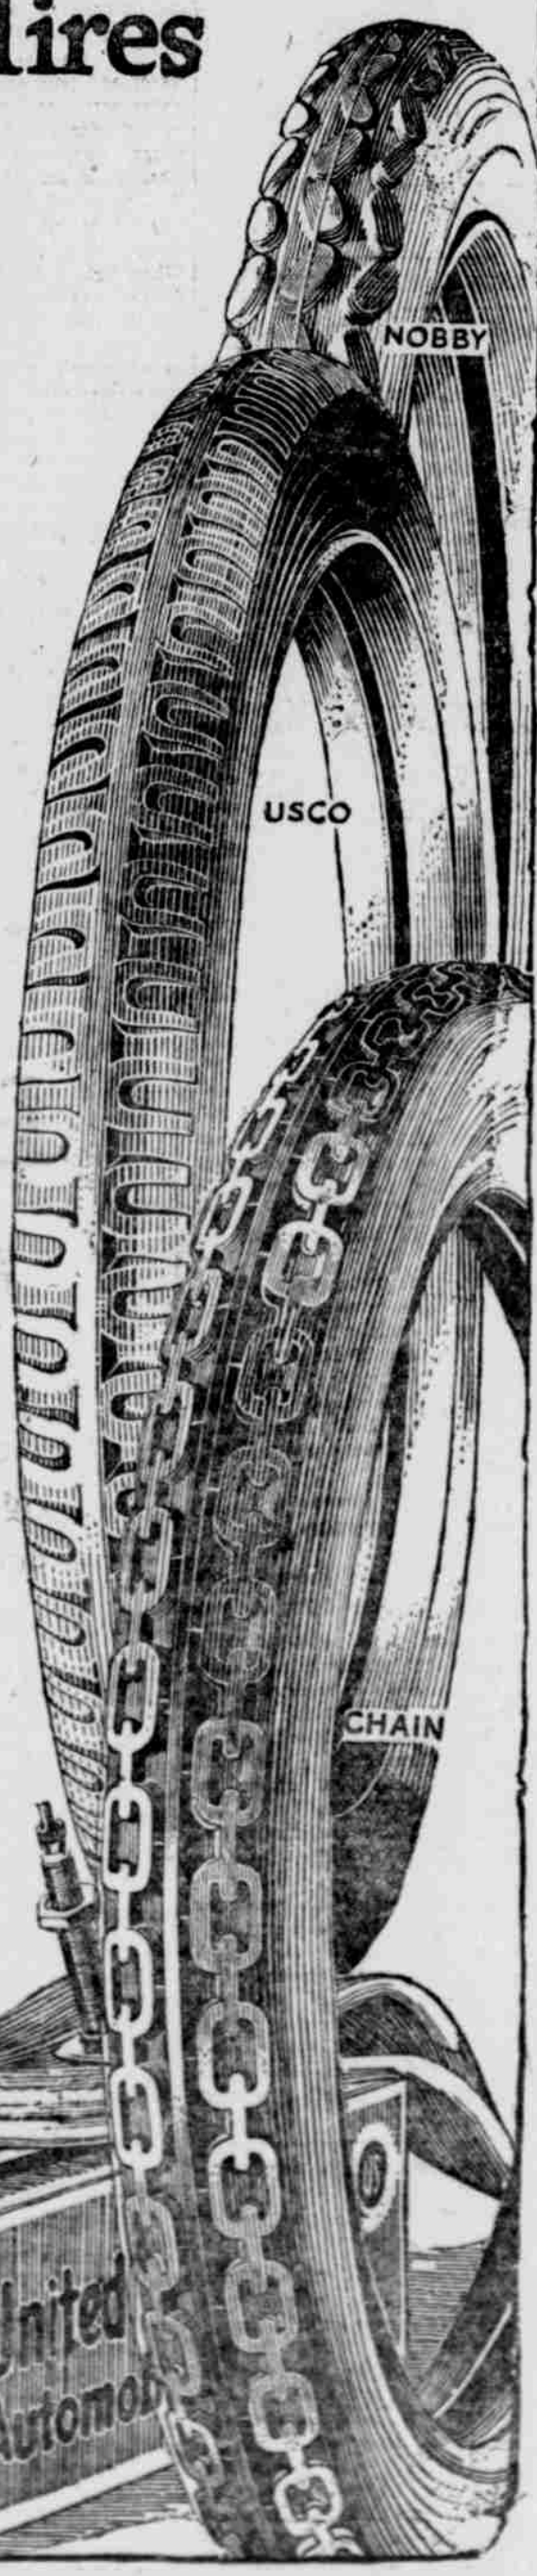

Never cheapening their quality on the mistaken theory that a man's intelligence can be judged by the length of his car's wheel base.

Good dealers will tell you that they can never get enough U. S. 30x3½-inch Tires.

A hint which the small car owner who is bent on quality will always heed in time.

MONTPELIER K. OF C. EASILY WON—5 TO 1

Waterbury Team Outplayed at Intercity Park Saturday—Both Sides Played Loosely.

In the second game of the afternoon, Saturday, the Montpelier K. of C. averaged themselves for the defeat received at the hands of the Waterbury team a few weeks ago, and this time came out on the long end of the five to one score. Errors accounted for the greater part of the victors' runs, as there was only one hit made during the time they were pushing the five tallies over. Likewise the visitors' tally came entirely through loose playing.

Lamperti, first man up for the "Cassys," took second when Grey threw wild to catch him at first, and scored later when Gilmore played for Pape at first. In the second Stockwell received free transportation. Murphy attempted to sacrifice but Newton played for Stockwell at second, and both men were safe. Hamel advanced the runners with a sacrifice, and Donnelly walked, filling the sacks. Slayton drove a single to left, and Stockwell easily scored, but Murphy was caught far from the plate on the throw in. Lamperti fanned.

The visitors gained their lone count in the third, after two men had died. Grey was safe at first when Hamel dropped his fly, and he immediately stole second. Randall pushed an easy grounder to Stockwell, which the latter let go through his legs, and allowed Grey to advance a base. Randall stole second, though he was delayed for a time on the way, when short, pitcher and second baseman played ping pong over and around his head. Dobbs booted Newton's grounder, and Grey scored. Randall was caught asleep off third. Murphy to Lamperti, retiring the side.

The grand display of fire-works, however, came two innings later, and they were all for the benefit of the Montpelier team. Robinson, first man up for the visitors in that inning, reached first when Murphy allowed a third strike to get away from him. Lamperti was on his toes, however, and when Lease attempted a sacrifice got the ball almost at the plate, shot it to second, forcing out Robinson, and Marr propelled it to Comi in time to catch the batter. It was one of the neatest and brainiest double plays seen on the local grounds this season.

In its half of the fifth Montpelier gained the rest of its tallies. A hit, two errors, a wild pitch and three stolen bases, allowed Pape, Comi and Murphy to count. There was no further scoring during the game. Both teams ran around the bases almost at will, though the local players gained more in the final reckoning.

GYMNASTIC TEAMS COME INTO THEIR OWN

They Are Holding the Boards in Olympic Games This Week—United States Not Much Interested.

Antwerp, Aug. 23.—Gymnastic teams to-day came into their own at the Olympic stadium, where, for the past week, contests in field and track athletics have been witnessed. Each nation entering the team events was permitted one team of from 16 to 24 gymnasts. In addition there were events for individual experts, in which each nation competing was permitted to enter six men. America entered only the individual events.

There were events for gymnasts trained according to the system adopted by the European gymnastic federation, and for those trained under the Swedish system. Each of these events provided for a team, with and without apparatus, each team being allowed one hour for demonstration. The individual events included work at free exercise, without apparatus, and trials on the horizontal bar, parallel bars, the rings and the "horses." In addition there was a special production for commemorative medals, which might be called a parade.

The exercises, in the principal team events were carried out according to specified plans, including a number of intricate gymnastic movements. All judging was by points. Among the na-

What American Rule has Done for Filipino Women.
In 20 years of American control in the islands, prepared as she was by racial tendency and religion, the Filipino woman has responded in a remarkable degree in thought and aspiration to the new influence. In all classes, the personal diameter has lengthened amazingly. The establishment of the public school system with coeducation the rule from the primary through the university has had an awakening effect that increases tremendously each year. There are, of course, many who still prefer the convent or private school for their daughters, but the illuminating point is, that in no other eastern country is coeducation even among the possibilities.

Considered practically as an asset in the material progress of the archipelago, the Filipino woman is no negligible quantity. In the economic problem her value does not lie in proximity to zero, not by any means. The Philippine census of 1903, the city official census of the islands, states that "the proportion of women engaged in gainful occupations in the Philippines is more than double that of the United States and three times that of Porto Rico, and more than three times that of Cuba." As statistics have a habit of doing, these figures do not tell the exact truth. The Filipino women are not such industrious bees as might be gathered from the above. The following explanation may modify conclusions drawn from the figures. The economy of the Filipino household may be compared with the European in the 18th century with the difference: The European household was self-subsistent, manufacturing largely all needs of both household and family, but the women were not counted as wage-earners. In the Philippines, because of distribution of raw material, which is rarely cultivated, and often because of some freaks of chance, each little community has its special products manufactured by woman's hands. These products, through the channels of trade, are exchanged. Hence the women are engaged in gainful occupations. This division of labor, which exists in all parts of the country, and the stage of household economy, explains the unusually large proportion of women wage-earners given not only in the census report, but also by other authorities.—Scribner's Magazine.
